Tell me and I'll forget.

Show me and
I'll remember.

Involve me and I'll understand.

CONFUCIUS

I am looking forward to our first session together and want to ensure that we enjoy our time and make some progress instead of filling out forms. The attached questionnaire is fairly long and some of the questions may seem a bit broad, but I assure you that any information you feel like sharing will be beneficial in our session and will help me determine the best plan for our time together.

Some questions may not apply to you or your family, so please answer only what feels important to you. I may ask questions when we are together if I need more information. Know that your answers to all questions are completely confidential and answering them is simply a way for me to get to know you, your child and the situation better before we begin.

I look forward to meeting you soon.

Thank you for your input. The following is saved as a word document to allow you to type your answers into the questionnaire, save a copy and email the completed document back to me.
